IKAM Benchmark Case Spec (idea.md)

Identity

- Case ID: l-local-retail-v01
- Business name: Juniper & Juno Goods
- Industry / domain: Local retail (home goods + small gifts + seasonal pop-ups)
- Business model: Retail (3 locations) + online + occasional wholesale
- Locations / operating region: Los Angeles, CA (3 stores) + ship-to (US)
- Size tier: l
- Org maturity: mixed — strong merchandising instincts, uneven ops discipline

High-level description

- One-liner: A small chain boutique with three locations and an online store; promotions and inventory are a constant tug-of-war.
- What they sell:
  - Home goods, candles, stationery, small gifts
  - Seasonal pop-up collections
  - Limited wholesale to 2–3 partner stores

Operating model

- Functions:
  - Store ops
  - Merchandising/buying
  - Marketing
  - Finance/bookkeeping
  - Fulfillment
- Key roles (named people + titles):
  - Lila Moreno — Founder / Creative Director
  - Ben Carter — Ops Manager
  - Noor Patel — Merchandising Lead
  - Keisha Wong — Marketing Lead (contractor)
  - “West Ledger Co.” — Bookkeeping
  - Store managers: Aria (DTLA), Mateo (Silver Lake), Jules (Venice)

Chaos profile (new pick; tracked)

- Overall chaos level (1–5): 4
- Rationale: multiple locations + promos + inventory = lots of drift.
- Where chaos lives:
  - ☒ conflicting metrics (sell-through vs margin reporting)
  - ☒ version sprawl (promo calendar, brand guide, pricing sheets)

- ☒ shadow spreadsheets (inventory adjustments, vendor POs)
- ☒ messy meeting notes (store calls)
- ☒ naming drift (collections, SKUs, promo names)
- ☐ missing docs (some, especially postmortems)

Intentional contradictions

1) Revenue reporting:
   - Ops weekly report uses gross sales
   - Bookkeeping uses net sales (returns + discounts)
2) Inventory accuracy:
   - Store counts say candles are overstocked
   - Warehouse sheet shows backorder
3) Promo naming:
   - "Spring Reset" vs "Refresh Week" vs "New Season Drop"
4) Headcount:
   - Staffing plan counts temps as staff
   - HR roster excludes temps

Timeline of significant events

- 2024-08: Opened 3rd location (Venice) — inventory complexity jumps.
- 2025-03: Began online shipping expansion.
- 2025-09: Major promo created returns spike; net vs gross debate.
- 2026-01: Ops manager tries to standardize SKU naming; partial adoption.
- 2026-02: Merchandising pushes a new collection naming scheme.

Benchmark goals (IKAM)

- Queries:
  1) “Why do sales numbers differ between ops and bookkeeping?”
  2) “Which SKUs are overstocked vs backordered and why?”
  3) “What promos are planned and what are their names/aliases?”
  4) “Which store is underperforming in Feb 2026 and why?”
